How do we deal with the youngest children after this disaster?

1. Children may be given words that reflect their perception of situations

2. An aid-worker must empathize with what the child really experienced during the disaster.....

3. The truth about important facts and live-events must be told, no matter their age, no matter how bad the truth....

4. Provide a calm and predictable approach to the child with new opportunities to bond
